PRIME MINISTER

I have been looking out some dates for your sister to come and visit you at Chequers and wondered what you felt about Mr. and Mrs.
Cullen coming on Sunday,
26 August for one night?
This is the Bank Holiday weekend.

Further to our conversation on the telephone today I know that the Prime Minister will be delighted to hear that you and your husband are able to go to Chequers for the night of Sunday 26 August arriving between 5.30 and 6 p.m.

I have pleasure in enclosing a route map to Chequers and hope that you do not have any problem in finding it. If I can help in any further way please do not hesitate to ring me on 930-4433.

Following my letter attached to Mrs Cullen, she telephoned me. She is most anxious to see her sister and I hope we will be able to fix something up in September, preferably one night at Chequers. It could easily be mid-week and the Cullens are not tied for dates at all - except they would prefer it not to be the weekend of 7/9 September. (I think that the PM had it in mind to invite the Cullens on their own and therefore a weekend might not have been the best time anyway.)

If possible I said I would telephone Mrs Cullen this weekend or on Friday night.

I think its more sensible to write rather than telephone you at this time of year! But I hope the rain hasn't done too much damage.

Mrs Thatcher would very much like to see you when the harvest is over and you feel you can both get away. She would love you to come to Chequers: it seems best if you could let us know when you think you will be 'free' again, and we will try and arrange a suitable date - possibly in September? The telephone number here is 930 4433.

This is also to let you know that I shall be leaving Mrs Thatcher at the end of August. You will probably remember my colleague Caroline Stephens, who is now the Prime Minister's Personal Assistant, and would seem to be the best person if you need a contact here.

Mark is well - living alone at Flood Street. Carol is due to come home, for good, in December.

Mrs Thatcher

A couple of months ago you said you would like to see your sister during the summer recess. Would you like them to come to Chequers for a night at the end of August (on the assumption their harvest is over) or some time during September?

Yes ok
