Dear Margaret,

Thank you for seeing Caldera. You probably found the occasion most distressing. I certainly did. Caldera in the past has always seemed - been, in fact - the most moderate of people, a great anglophil & very rational. To hear him talk of the insufficiency of law, & even ~~to~~ speak of the Venezuelan impatience over Guyana, was appalling. I had no idea that he wd. take that view.

On the other hand however distressing personally, the meeting was exceptionally interesting; he showed just how fanatical a fundamentally decent man can become; & he certainly learned from you of the strength of yr. resolution which will plainly give him much food for thought. Perhaps he will have been influenced.

I have written you a separate note about Olloa
Yours ever
Hugh
