The Prime Minister has asked me to confirm in writing a suggestion which he put to President Giscard last night, namely that M. Fourcade might give an account of the Rambouillet meeting, on behalf of his British, German and Italian colleagues, at the meeting of EEC Finance Ministers to be held in Brussels later today. When the Prime Minister mentioned this to President Giscard, he offered to send a short note confirming it and also confirming that he discussed the idea with Chancellor Schmidt, who agreed with it.
