

In answer to a query from David Pallister of The Guardian about the "print order" for Cabinet papers, I said:

"The papers would normally go to members of the (relevant) committee and other Ministers with an interest in the business transacted."

Source: Martin Vile, Cabinet Office.

AW