10 Downing Street
London SW1

It was a wonderful dinner last night. We enjoyed it so much, thanks.

I send two things. Firstly as promised David Hart's booklet published by the Monday Club, "Who's Afraid of Laissez Faire", a reply to the speech entitled "Conservatism" made to the Cambridge Union by the Rt.Hon. Sir Ian Gilmour M.P., in the hope that the Prime Minister will find time to read it. Secondly, copies of correspondence between the Civil Engineering Contractors Association and Norman Lamont re the issue I raised with her last Sunday concerning the Gas Board's use of direct labour in place of the unions.

Zazi hopes that you can come to dinner with us and bring Jane freed from her double duties.
