

M. Recalls war

memories. Never doubted Britain.

Immunity, wage, of future.

Some friends are concerned.

The same language; problems defend some values, will be liberty, human rights,

promote Europe.

Are you already Thatcher's.

— Reality

Thanks.

—
Royal Wedding.

Summit seems immovable

contacts: I intend to give new impulse & orientation. Needs of present day: Lux, London, London.

News has been for some time.

Some things have been done.

We must show that

new perspectives are opening for the people of Europe

today.

Do more & do it

better: economic,

technical etc.

—
Let's play active role.

economic, technology,

science, industry.

Meeting with

Gordon Richardson

14 September 1981

President Mitterrand's Visit

The Department may find it convenient to have the enclosed copies of the texts prepared for delivery by the Prime Minister and President Mitterrand at the dinner on the night of Thursday 10 September.

The Prime Minister stuck very closely to the text.

President Mitterrand introduced his speech with a few extemporary sentences about his war memories and about the values which Britain and France had in common. One he turned to his prepared text, he also stuck closely to it.

MODBA

Brian Fall, Esq.,
Foreign and Commonwealth Office.