

10 DOWNING STREET

THE PRIME MINISTER

25 August 1982

Dear Harry.

Thank you for your letter of 19 August, and for letting me see the letter from John Westmuckett.

I understand how you and he feel about the Falkland Islands Service. But I know that it gave comfort to those who lost their loved ones in the South Atlantic, and I hope you will agree that there is little to be gained by reopening the argument over the Order of Service. At least we can look forward to the parade through London in October, which I am sure will give the public a good opportunity to show their appreciation for the achievements of the Task Force.

We had a wonderful holiday in Switzerland. I hope you have had a chance to get away too. With best wishes.

Yours ever
Margaret
