THE PRIME MINISTER

22 June 1979

Jean Borsini le Président,

On returning to London, I should like to thank you for the wonderful hospitality which was extended by you, and all the representatives of the municipality, to me and to the British delegation during our visit to Strasbourg for the meeting of the European Council. I particularly appreciated your kindness in guiding us round the ancient centre of your beautiful city; and all of us appreciated the care which was taken to make our short visit so enjoyable. Like my colleagues, I am especially grateful to you for making the magnificent Hôtel de Ville available to us for our discussions.

Please convey my warm thanks to all the members of your staff who worked so hard to make the arrangements for this important event, in a city which has seen so many in its long history.

With every best wish,

*Yours sincerely
Margaret Thatcher*

Monsieur Pierre Pflimlin
