Re: Radio Broadcasting Techniques

I enclose a short report from George Gretton on broadcasting techniques, following his analysis of two interview cassettes which your office obtained for him. As you see he proposes one half-hour session.

However, I note that both tapes were of interviews. This still leaves out the question of writing scripts for broadcasting, sound or TV. At short notice your office were unable to obtain tapes of scripted speeches for analysis. However, I am sure that these must exist somewhere in the BBC's voluminous archives.

I also enclose excerpts from George's covering letter to me which refer to television techniques; I heartily agree with him.
