

HOUSE OF COMMONS
LONDON SW1 0AA

Monday 23 Feb

Personal.

Dear John,

Thank you very much for letting me see your article - I had missed it, and in view of what it said am very glad that I've now read it.

I am not surprised that it drew a fantastic response. There is a yearning to get things right again among people of many political views - except those who are out to destroy the free world for their own ends.

My home phone no. (19, Flood Street, Chelsea, N.J.) is 352-2366.
We must meet and I should like to arrange a time when several of us can talk together. How please can we leave it for a fortnight or so. You will guess the reason. I shall be so glad when this week or so are over.

I must admit that education was a good training ground for the kind of warfare now being fought!

All Best wishes,

Yours sincerely
Alan Turing
