

PRIME MINISTER

Weekend World

I have had another word today with "Weekend World".

Their proposed format for tomorrow's programme is:-

- 1) Election prospects - is there going to be an early election?
- 2) Events of this week - sterling and interest rates.
- 3) Nuclear issues with Cruise, the zero option and Andropov three defined areas of interest.
- 4) The back to the economy - to look at a longer term prospective for what you hope to achieve through the resolute approach, and especially on inflation, taxation, unemployment and, if there is time, employment legislation.

I hope you will feel better in the morning.
