

PRIME MINISTER

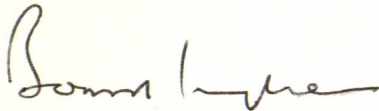

WOMAN'S EDITOR, SUN

You have agreed to give Wendy Henry, Woman's Editor of the Sun, (not Jean Ritchie, as they originally suggested) an interview on Monday for an hour from 5.00pm.

Miss Henry wants a familiar type personality interview, dealing with you from the woman's angle. She will not be entering policy areas, though she may ask you for a line on Bermondsey.

She will tape-record the interview. Romola will accompany her.

Content?

B. INGHAM

25 February 1983