Dear Prime Minister,

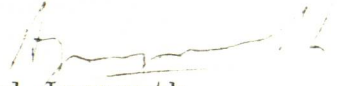

I am writing to thank you for your kind letter of the 27th May, and to convey to you and your Government our deepest appreciation for your invaluable assistance and support to our country.

I seize this opportunity to convey to you once more our warmest congratulations on your resounding electoral success.

I have vivid recollections of the meeting I had the honour and pleasure of having with you not long back and I express the hope that the requests I made will continue to receive your personal attention.
