THE PRIME MINISTER

17 June 1983

Dear Mr Macmillan,

Thank you so much for your letter of 10 June and for your congratulations. I imagine that you must have felt much as I do after your great triumph in 1959.

There is so much to do both to bring recovery at home and to cement alliances overseas.

To have your good wishes means a great deal to me.

Yours sincerely
Margaret Thatcher

My dear Prime Minister

In spite of adding to the immense number of communications which you will no doubt receive, I feel impelled, as a former leader of the Party, to write to offer you my warmest congratulations on the great success of the Conservative Party under your stimulating and inspiring authority.

I also wish you every possible success over the next few years in dealing with the many problems which confront the Government and the nation.

With kind regards,

Yours very sincerely,

Harold Macmillan

The Prime Minister
