Thursday.

Dear Margaret,
It seems strange that after over eight years as the Great Bench as part of your tea, I am now to be a spectator of events rather than a participant in them.
Whatever role I have occupied I have been motivated by two feelings, total loyalty to you and a deep affection for you, and finally by the conviction that I was supporting a great leader in a great cause.
I have deeply regretted that by my behaviour
I have caused you embarrassment and distress.
