MEMORANDUM FOR THE MINISTER

Your meeting with Carrington in Rome

Pitfield returned my call and I explained to him:

1.

Of course, it would have to be ascertained whether Mrs. Thatcher herself is keen for such a meeting to take place; and

- 2. that as a fall-back I was urging you to see Carrington while in Rome essentially to pursue two objectives:
  - a) that of explaining and describing to Carrington the current atmosphere in Ottawa and in the country generally regarding the constitutional file with particular emphasis on the intentions of the government; and
  - b) that of making it clear to Carrington that the Prime Minister was very much committed to a July 1st date for closing this particular chapter of our constitutional evolution and that the enlightened view in Ottawa was that the Supreme Court would make its judgement known in time for this deadline to be met. The idea here would be of course to press home to Carrington that the Prime Minister's resolve has not dwindled and that he, Carrington, and Mrs. Thatcher are still under the same, if not greater, pressures for quick action in Britain.

Pitfield said that he agrees with these two objectives and with the notion that a meeting with Carrington in Rome would be an opportune means of furthering them. He urged, however, that before you leave, you speak to the Prime Minister over the telephone so as to "fine tune the message" that you would leave to Carrington.

Pitfield said that the Prime Minister is returning Saturday and he said he thought you should phone him then.

POINTS FOR DISCUSSION WITH MPs AND LORDS
IN LONDON

There are three points which need to be emphasized in discussions with British politicians. They are the following:

1. Legal Legitimacy

Now that the Supreme Court will have ruled on the legality of the action of the Canadian Parliament prior to the completion of that action, the legal legitimacy, that is the appropriateness of a request of the Senate and the House of Commons of Canada, should be beyond question. This point is acknowledged in the Foreign Affairs Committee Report.

2. Political Legitimacy
