PRIME MINISTER

HONG KONG MEETING

We have two hours. We have provisionally arranged another meeting for Wednesday in case you need it.

HANDLING OF MEETING

I suggest you:-

- (a) ask Percy Cradock to describe his latest contacts with the Chinese and summarise the Chinese position as he sees it.
- (b) ask Teddy Youde to describe the latest Hong Kong view you should see the report of his latest talk with EXCO at Flag 'A'. (and 2 other telepone from him while lave just arrive also at Flag 'A').

We should then discuss whether EXCO's advice - that we should stand pat on our present position - is realistic.

If the conclusion is that our objective must be to get the talks going then we should consider:-

- (a) whether you should send a message to the Chinese Premier.
- (b) or/and whether we should send a special emissary.

and in each case what should be said.

You will wish to see the letter at Flag 'B' which describes a new appointment at the Chinese Embassy here which could lead to a new channel of communication.

In any event the meeting should probably commission a contingency paper on what we should do if the Chinese announce their "plan" in June.

SUBSTANCE

I am convinced that our immediate objective must be to get talks started. Until we do - and until they have been under way for some time - we shall never know what the true Chinese position is.

SECRET unofficials clearly believe that it is open to negotiation. How do we do it? It may be that the time has come for us to strike a tougher note than we have done since your visit in September. We could state in a formal message that the Chinese precondition is unacceptable and that we expect the Chinese to honour the agreement reached between you and Zhao. We could recall your hint that if satisfactory arrangements can be agreed you would be prepared to make recommendations on sovereignty to the British Parliament and imply that if the Chinese reject that basis for proceeding the responsibility will be theirs. But we hope that they will now agree to start the talks. I attach, in case you need them, (a) the paper on joint administration: Flag C. (b) Sir A. Parson's minute of 24 February: Flag D. (c) the Chinese note of 9 February: Flag E. (d) the Foreign Secretary's minute and the "options paper" of 16 February: FLAG F. I have, as you asked, invited Mr. Heseltine to join the meeting. A. & C. 4 March, 1983 SECRET shall let you have papers at the weekend.

Caroline 0/5 1 have told the F.LC. O. - But 1 Si A. Atland will not be able to PRIME MINISTER come. A.Jc. 4 Hong Kong In the coming week we need to settle our policy.

We have set aside two hours on Monday (from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m.). This may be sufficient but in case it is not, we have also kept 90 minutes on Wednesday.

For the first meeting, we could invite:

Foreign Secretary Sir Antony Acland Sir E. Youde Sir P. Cradock Alan Donald Tony Parsons Sir Ian Sinclair.

I doubt if it is necessary to invite John Belstead as 12 would be helpful to have To he perent. well but do you want him to attend?

A.J. C.

SECRET PRIME MINISTER HONG KONG I attach: A A minute by Sir Anthony Parsons; B A paper by the FCO on the idea of joint administration after 1997; C A draft telegram to the Governor authorising him to hold a discussion with EXCO before he returns here next week; D In case you need it again, the original FCO paper on the future of Hong Kong. I am aware that this does not take us much further forward. It is a very difficult problem and I think our best plan is to have a thorough discussion with Percy Cradock and the Governor in the week beginning 7 March. But I shall, next week, try to give more thought to this myself and let you have some ideas.

The only decision needed now is on the draft telegram at Flag C. Do you agree that the Governor may be given this authority?
