THE PRIME MINISTER

15 October 1984

Dear Marcus,

Thank you so much for your message following the bomb outrage in Brighton. The relief which Denis and I felt at having escaped injury was quickly superseded by horror when the full extent of the tragedy became clear. We owe it to the victims of this barbarous act not to allow its perpetrators to succeed in their evil aims.

The Radio Speech manager at Brighton was marvellous. My colleagues all looked so smart on the Friday afternoon.

Yours
Laurie

From Lord Seiff of Brimpton

12th October 1984

Dear Prime Minister,

I am dictating this letter on my way to the airport going to New York having just heard on the radio the news of the dastardly bombing at the Grand Hotel.

I was happy to learn that Denis and you were not physically injured but can appreciate what a dreadful experience it must have been. I heard you on the radio about the Conference going on - quite right.

I was appalled to learn about Norman Tebbit and the other casualties.

I know that Lily, who is already in New York, would join me in expressing the same feelings.

I wish you very well and send Denis and you my warm regards,

Sincerely,

Marcus

The Prime Minister,
The Rt. Hon. Margaret Thatcher, MP,

London SW1.
