MR BUTLER

It became clear in the course of my talks with Lord Franks about the amendments to the Franks Report that he is hoping that the Prime Minister will invite him to come and see her. I said that I knew that she had this in mind, but that it seemed to me that such a meeting could be misinterpreted if it happened before the Committee's Report was published.

Lord Franks entirely agreed with this. Perhaps some time between the statement and the debate would be right for this?
