

PRIME MINISTER

Brussels Football Match

No doubt we will get the usual accusations of unemployment being partly to blame for football hooliganism. I was struck by what the Economist said this week :

"Don't put it down to the recession, though that can hardly have helped; the nastiness in Brussels came from youngsters with enough cash to buy the expensive ticket there".

2

STEPHEN SHERBOURNE

31.5.85