LUNCHES FOR INDUSTRIALISTS

Sir Brian Wyldbore-Smith telephoned yesterday to say that Alistair was very keen to reinstate the lunches for Industrialists and wondered whether it would be possible to set up, say a couple for the not too distant future, (with one before Christmas if at all possible).

I explained the diary difficulties to him, and said that I would go back to him once I had had a word with you. There is in fact a free day on Friday, 13th December in your diary.

Would you be content for us to arrange one of these lunches on that day, with another sometime in the new year?

Yes
