Personal

Dear Charlie,

Thank you so much for your letter. It was very kind of you to write so warmly and I am glad that the help and support which Britain has provided is so clearly appreciated in the United States. It is vital to stand up to terrorism even though the price can be very harsh, as the murder of the hostages has shown. We must all hope that the action taken by the United States has its effect.

With warm regards, - and look after yourselves with special care.

Yours sincerely,

Margaret Thatcher

His Excellency The Honourable Charles H. Price, II
