THE PRIME MINISTER

21 July 1990

Dear Garry,

A note to say thank you to you and the executive for all you have done this session especially when times have not been easy. I am very much aware that until we are able to get inflation rates and interest rates down there will still be some difficult times ahead. But I thought - the spirit of the meeting on Thursday was good and that is the most important thing of all. That is a great tribute to you - my thanks and deep appreciation.

Yours ever
Margaret

Dear Cranley

I cleared last night with the Prime Minister the change in date for her visit to the 1922 Committee. She will therefore come on Thursday 19 July at 6.00 pm. She anticipates speaking for about 20 minutes. As you know, she has a Reception at Number 10 at 6.30 pm for Members of Parliament and their wives.

Andrew Turnbull and I have considered your Diary in relation to your visit to the 1922 Committee. You will remember that at present this engagement is fixed for Thursday 12 July. This will be an impossible day for you following your return from Houston early that morning, Questions, Cabinet and your Statement.

I have discussed with Cranley changing the engagement to Thursday 19 July. The problem is that there will then be a slight clash with your Reception at Number 10 at 6.30 pm. However, it would be possible either for you to arrive late for the Reception, with Mr Thatcher, if he is able to come, greeting the first guests in your absence, or alternatively for me to notify all the guests that it will be starting slightly later. If you speak for no more than 25 minutes, you will be able to leave the House of Commons shortly after 6.30. It therefore seems preferable to change the date to 19 July.

Happy that I do this?
