

PRIME MINISTER

BILATERAL WITH THE CHANCELLOR: 24 JANUARY

You have your normal weekly bilateral with the Chancellor tomorrow afternoon following the meeting on pay review bodies. The Chief Secretary and the Cabinet Office will also be attending. There is a separate folder for the pay review body meeting.

You sorted out quite a lot of the outstanding bilateral business with the Chancellor last week, and I think the only substantive item for tomorrow is your usual stock-taking of the markets.

Next Tuesday evening, 30 January, you will be having the planned seminar with the Chancellor and other senior Treasury people.
