Dear Sir Robin,

NHS REFORMS

The Prime Minister is hosting a small seminar on the implementation of the NHS reforms for the Secretary of State for Health and some members of the NHS management team, the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Chief Secretary and senior members of the No. 10 Policy Unit on 14 June at 1130.

The Prime Minister would very much value your own contribution at this seminar. She is anxious to have independent advice on the practical problems which might be encountered in implementing reforms of such scale and scope; and on how those problems could best be overcome. Accordingly the Prime Minister would be very grateful if you could attend this seminar.

Yours sincerely,

Barry H. Potter

P.S. I attach a package of recent papers as agreed over the telephone. The normal rules of confidentiality apply - you will note that some of the papers are marked secret. Accordingly no copies of any of the attached papers should be taken: and - in due course, I would ask you to return all of them.
