British Airways, B Cal and Independents

James Moorhouse, MEP rang on this subject making the following points:

1. We need to preserve the authority of the CAA.
2. He believes that the independents including B Cal will be at risk if British Airways retains its present huge slice of the scheduled flights.
3. He is not optimistic about liberalising European air routes.

Mr. Moorhouse has a professional as well as a political interest in civil aviation and I am writing <sup>simply</sup> to record his views.
