TIMING OF PUBLICATION OF PUBLIC EXPENDITURE WHITE PAPER

The Chief Secretary's Office rang to check whether we have objections to the possible publication dates of 19 or 20 January mentioned in Jill Rutter's letter of 11 December. I responded that we saw no major problems. If anything, ^{we} you might prefer 20 January as being a non-Questions day, but this was not critical. The Treasury will come forward in the next few days with a precise proposal on timing.
