

PRIME MINISTER

TORONTO ECONOMIC SUMMIT: DRESS ETC

Much to her embarrassment, my Canadian Sherpa colleague had been instructed by Mr. Mulroney to raise the question of dress at the Summit discussions.

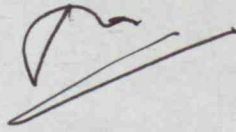

Mr. Mulroney wants leaders to wear blazers or sport coats at the first session on Sunday afternoon. I did not demur. He wants similar dress to be worn for the informal discussion of long term issues between 1830 and 2000 on the Monday afternoon and at the following dinner. Several Sherpas demurred. Mr. Mulroney will be consulted again and the outcome will be reported through Protocol. Whatever the outcome is it looks as if Monday's dinner will be short dress, not long dress.

Mr. Mulroney seems keen to milk the Summit for every photo opportunity that he can get. But we have ensured, successfully, I think, that these photo events are confined to the leaders' passage to and from the meetings and do not intrude upon the meetings themselves. He seems determined for the formal Summit photograph to be taken of leaders in informal dress, either on the Sunday afternoon or on the Monday evening.
