FALKLAND ISLANDS OFFICE:

FALKLAND ISLANDS TALKS

1. Miss Sukey Cameron, Administrative Assistant at the Falkland Islands Office rang on 19 August with a routine query. When I had answered this she asked if I could tell her the date of the next round of talks in Geneva in the Autumn. I asked her what talks she was referring to. She explained that someone had told her that a round of talks on the Falkland Islands was planned for the Autumn in Geneva. She said she must have misunderstood.

2. I explained that her information was not correct and that the position was as stated by Ministers in Parliament. We hoped to continue the dialogue but no decision had yet been taken on further talks. Both sides were still considering the position.

I assume this is simply a routine enquiry - after New York, Geneva would be next; after spring comes autumn (certainly in 1980)
