

FALKLAND ISLANDS- NATO COMMITMENT

"NATO will be informed as and when British assets committed to the Alliance leave the NATO area. British Forces will of course remain available to NATO during the current emergency but at a lower level of availability. Of course, the UK remains firmly committed to NATO's defence.

Our NATO allies fully understand the reasons for the reduced availability and there is a great deal of support for our cause."