

FALKLANDS ISLANDS
FLIGHT OVER SOUTH ATLANTIC BY TV FILM CREW
AND PA STILL PHOTOGRAPHER

Note for Press Office

If you receive enquiries about a flight for TV and press over the South Atlantic this weekend, you can confirm this has been arranged on a pool basis.

The TV crew - British TV News (with BBC personnel) - and PA, both reporter and photographer, are due to arrive in Ascension overnight Thursday/Friday.

TV may offer pictures from Ascension describing activities there on the ENG link Friday evening.

The party then join a Hercules for a long range flight down to the task force at the weekend. Pictures may be expected back in London for world pool late Sunday, early Monday.

Background

Note - We do not want to be too specific about timings.

Also for security reasons, it would be a good thing to try and discourage people from writing about it, or giving advance publicity. But as the BBC are circulating the availability of this material to other organisations before they have got it in the can, this may be difficult!
