✓ Donna Young telephoned this afternoon to ask whether the meeting on MTFS could be 2.15 pm rather than 2.30 pm as originally advised. The Chancellor's programme for the afternoon of Monday 21 February is a little congested and they wish to set aside one hour for the meeting. She confirmed that the draft paper will be sent to us on Thursday.

Copy to Mr George

Donna Young, the Chancellor's diary secretary, telephoned this morning to fix a suitable date and time for a meeting between the Chancellor, Bruce-Gardyne and yourself - only - to discuss MTFS. I have arranged, subject to confirmation, an appointment at No 11 on Monday 21 February at 2.30 pm. I have spoken to EAJG and he has advised me that he hopes to receive, before the end of this week, a draft of the MTFS and ^{he} will provide you with a briefing note for the weekend. I have asked Miss Young to confirm that no other people will be at the meeting and she will advise whether there are any further relevant papers.
