Dear Mr. Morris:

Please convey my appreciation to the Prime Minister both for holding the seminar on global climate last Wednesday and for inviting me to participate. I hope the Prime Minister found the discussions useful and that they will contribute to your government's formulation of a policy for the abatement of global warming.

If there is any way that I can assist you in the future as you develop an approach to the global climate issue, don't hesitate to call on me.

Sincerely,

Michael Oppenheimer

Dear Prime Minister,

Thank you for kindly inviting me to the 'greenhouse' meeting at No 10 yesterday. It was a most interesting & useful discussion — and the lunch was delicious!

You indicated in talking such a profound interest in the real science behind political problems of this kind is a milestone in the road to better scientific understanding in politics and the public.

With best wishes

Yours sincerely
J. D. Searcy

Dear Prime Minister,

I very much enjoyed your seminar on the Global Climate yesterday and I felt that the quality of the information and ideas exchanged was of a very high standard.

As I said at the meeting, the CBI takes the Global Climate issue seriously and we are anxious to participate in setting the right course for business and investment in the UK. I welcomed your insistence at the Seminar on basing UK policy on the best possible scientific understanding of the factors involved.

Yours sincerely,

Robin Paul

Thank you very much for your facsimile letter of 22 April. It was very helpful to have this in advance of yesterday's seminar.
