Dear Robin,

I wonder if I can enlist your help in my search for a Director General for the British committee of the World Environmental Conference.

I had hoped that Sir Bryan Cartledge would do this job but he is so tied-up with Linacre College, Oxford, that he is unable to give us enough time. We are looking for a full time, paid Director General who will take executive command of the group.

I would be grateful for guidance. This job might suit someone retiring from the Home Civil Service who is looking for an interesting post which could last some years.

By the way, the USSR committee has now got its act together and, according to Sir Bryan Cartledge has got a good and powerful team, led by Mr. Aitmatov, the famous novelist and personal friend of Mr. Gorbachov.

Looking forward to seeing you again soon at one of your lunches. Thank you for your kind note. ✨

Best wishes,

Yours,

Geoffrey
