Dear Nigel,

SOCIAL SECURITY REVIEW: PUBLIC SERVICE PENSIONS - PART-TIMERS see Pt 2

I have seen a copy of Norman Fowler's letter to you of 20 May.

Whilst I accept that it would not be politically practicable to deal differently with public and private sector schemes, I am concerned that the proposal to bring part-timers earning above a lower earnings limit within a pension scheme could add significantly to local authority current expenditure through employer contributions. I understand that in any event implementation would not take place before April 1987, so I hope we can agree now that the costs to local government should be taken into account in settling PES provisions for local authority current expenditure for 1987/88 and future years.

I am copying this letter to the Prime Minister, other members of Cabinet and Sir Robert Armstrong.

*Yours
 Patrick*
