Dear Mr. Allday,

I write to thank you for arranging for me such a splendid set of visits last Friday. It was fascinating to see all the successive stages of the fuel cycle in one day. I was much impressed by all I saw.

Thank you too for the handsome piece of Crown Derby which you presented to me, and for the flowers.

It was a wonderful day.

Yours sincerely
Margaret Thatcher

Dear David,

Now that I have returned to Downing Street, I have had time to examine the presentation which you made and which you gave me last Friday. It is a really marvellous piece of craftsmanship, and you should be very proud of it. It provides a very fitting reminder for me of my visit to Sellafield.

Yours sincerely

Dear Walter,

I want to thank all concerned for arranging my tour of the Heysham site last Friday. From what you told me and from what I saw, enormous strides have obviously been made in the management of these large construction sites and this reflects credit on all concerned. I was especially pleased to learn that the plant is on budget and on timetable. Please keep that up so that the station is commissioned on time and on budget.

Yours sincerely

Dear Dr. Horsley,

I write to thank you and your colleagues for making my visit to Springfields last Friday such an interesting one. The processes involved in fabricating the fuel rods are especially fascinating. Thank you too for letting me keep the cube of uranium fuel. It provides a graphic illustration of the potential of nuclear power.

I send you and all who worked at Springfields my best wishes for the further success for the plant.

Yours sincerely

Dear Mr. Roberts

My time at Capenhurst last Friday provided a splendid introduction to my visit to the BNFL plants, and I am grateful to all concerned who made my visit to the plant so enjoyable.

I was especially impressed by the technology involved in the spinning ranks of centrifuges - and British technology which I hope can keep the plant competitive in the markets of the world for years to come.

Best wishes for the future success of BNFL at Capenhurst.

Yours sincerely

Dear Mr Steele,

I write to thank all concerned for making my visit to Sellafield last Friday such an instructive one. With its massive capital investment, the site is truly an impressive one, and it will become even more so when THORP is completed. There was so much to see and I wish I could have stayed longer. I wish you every success for the plant's early completion.

Yours sincerely,

Margaret Thatcher

I understand from Nigel Wicks, who accompanied the Prime Minister on Friday, that all the arrangements for the tour went very smoothly, and that the day was a great success. Thankfully, all our careful contingency planning was not needed.

I know how much work you and your colleagues put in to making sure the programme went off without a hitch, and we are very grateful for all your efforts.
