PRIME MINISTER'S
PERSONAL MESSAGE
SERIAL No. T 85/86

10 DOWNING STREET

THE PRIME MINISTER

8 May 1986

Dear Prime Minister,

I send you my warmest congratulations upon the remarkable success of the Economic Summit held under your Chairmanship in Tokyo. It is clear from the public comments of all those participating that it is regarded as the most successful and productive such meeting which we have yet had and this must be a tribute to the skilful way in which you led our discussions and brought us to clear and useful conclusions. May I also ask you to pass on my warm thanks and appreciation to all those concerned with the organisation of the Summit and with the security arrangements. They did an outstanding job.

I found our separate meeting very useful and hope that some of the points which we discussed there will bear fruit.

With warm regards,

Yours sincerely
Rajiv Gandhi

His Excellency Mr. Yasuhiro Nakasone

Dear Mr. Abe.

Although I have written to Prime Minister Nakasone, I should like to repeat to you my warm thanks and appreciation for the excellence of the arrangements made for the Tokyo Economic Summit. They contributed crucially to the great success of our meeting. I know that a very large number of people were involved both in the administrative arrangements and in providing security. I should be grateful if you would pass on my thanks to all of them.

With best wishes,

Yours sincerely

Dear Ambassador Kowata,

I write to congratulate you upon the excellent arrangements made for the Tokyo Economic Summit. They made a crucial contribution to the success of our meeting and were a tribute to many months of hard work and careful preparation. I should be grateful if you could pass on my appreciation to all the members of your staff concerned.

With best wishes,

Yours sincerely

Dear Mr. Kamakura

I write to express my warm thanks and appreciation for the work of the Metropolitan Police Department of Tokyo in providing security for those attending the Economic Summit. The arrangements were impressive and effective. I know what a great deal of careful thought and planning went into protecting us and I hope that you will pass on my thanks to all those who carried out their allotted tasks with such dedication and patience.

With best wishes,

Yours sincerely

Dear Mr. Kuroda,

I should like you to know how very much my delegation appreciated your kind help and attention as our Liaison Officer during the Tokyo Economic Summit. I am afraid that you may have found us a bit wilful sometimes. But you coped magnificently with every unexpected twist and turn in our arrangements and never failed to smooth our path. I know what a lot of work you put in. We are all very grateful for it.

With best wishes,

Yours sincerely

Dear Sir Sydney,

I am most grateful to you and your staff for all the hard work which went into the arrangements for our delegation attending the Economic Summit. I know what a burden it must be to have such a large group descend upon you with so many different demands and requirements. But the Embassy responded admirably. May I ask you to pass on my thanks to all the members of your staff concerned.

Thank you also for your help over my meeting with Mr. Nakasone. I think that we managed to get across the essential points with a reasonably light touch.

With best wishes to you and your wife,

Yours sincerely

Ronald Reagan

Dear Mr. Otani,

I write to thank you most warmly for the hospitality of the New Otani Hotel during the recent Economic Summit meeting in Tokyo. Your staff did wonders to cope with such a large number of people and with all the security measures which were necessary, while still managing to make us feel comfortable. I expressed my appreciation of this to Prime Minister Nakasone, but I hope you will pass on my thanks directly to all the members of the hotel staff.

With best wishes,

Yours sincerely
Margaret Thatcher

The Right Honourable Margaret Thatcher
Prime Minister of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland
No. 10. Downing Street, London

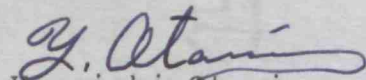

Excellency,

All of our management and staff of The New Otani Hotel and Tower join me in extending our sincere thanks to you for affording us the honor and pleasure of serving you during your visit to our hotel on the occasion of the Tokyo Summit in early May. We sincerely hope our services met with your complete satisfaction.

We are enclosing some photographs which were taken during the Summit. We hope that you will enjoy them, along with our compliments.

The Tokyo Summit was indeed a huge success, and we wish to convey to you our heartfelt congratulations for the important role you played in this international conference. Thank you for the privilege of allowing us to serve you in our limited capacity as part of the Tokyo Summit infrastructure. We shall be happy to provide you all services possible, if you should visit Japan again on either an official or a personal visit.

Respectfully yours,

Yoneichi Otani
