

PERSONAL

THE VICE PRESIDENT
WASHINGTON

October 26, 1986

The Right Honorable
Margaret Thatcher, M.P.,
Prime Minister,
London.

Dear Madame Prime Minister:

On November 15, I will be heading west and thus will not be able to attend the larger meeting at Camp David.

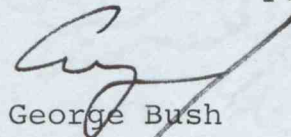

I do not want to miss having a chance for a good chat provided, of course, that it can comfortably fit your schedule.

Barbara and I would love to have you come across our fence and have breakfast with us on Saturday the 15th. You could then proceed to Camp David by chopper right from our helo-pad at the Observatory (same as last year).

If breakfast is too complicated perhaps I could come to call on you at your Embassy at your convenience. If none of this is convenient I will certainly understand, but I hate to have you so nearby without a chance to have a visit of some sort.

Bar joins me in sending our warmest best wishes to you and to Dennis.

Most sincerely,

George Bush

Dear Charles,

*Prime Minster
Agree to breakfast
with Vice-President Bush, before you go up to Camp David?*

15 NOVEMBER

...

1. As you know, the Vice-President will not be able to be present at Camp David on 15 November. He has instead suggested that the Prime Minister might like to join him for breakfast that morning before she takes off (from his helipad) for Camp David, and he takes off for the West Coast. I enclose his letter (of 26 October) putting this proposal to the Prime Minister

2. Our view here, and I think yours, is that the idea is a good one. We shall plan on the basis that it is likely to go ahead.

*Yours ever,
J O Kerr*

15 NOVEMBER

Thank you for your letter of 27 October about the Vice President's invitation to the Prime Minister to breakfast on the morning of 15 November. The Prime Minister accepts this with pleasure and hopes that the Vice President would be kind enough to invite HM Ambassador and me as well.

I am copying this letter to Colin Budd and Peter Fowler (Foreign and Commonwealth Office).
