From the Private Secretary

17 October 1990

You may recall that when I wrote on 28 June about the Prime Minister's meeting with Dr. Tolba I mentioned her idea that she might hold a seminar on the environment with scientists from a number of disciplines. She also mentioned this idea separately to Sir Crispin Tickell. Your Secretary of State agreed to give some thought to this idea and to come back to her, and I was wondering when we were likely to receive some advice.
