Dear Charles,

European Council Conclusions

There were three errors in the text of the European Council Conclusions circulated by the Council Secretariat in Madrid. Following further discussion in Brussels today a corrigendum is being issued. The changes are all improvements from our point of view.

/ The changes are highlighted in the enclosed text which is now ready for deposit in Parliament, subject to the Prime Minister's approval. They are:

- a) page 9; the phrase "and provided a good basis for further work" had been omitted;
- b) page 10; an erroneous version of paragraph 4b was at one time in circulation, although the Madrid telegram containing the conclusions reported this accurately, and you may already have the correct text;
- c) page 13; the phrase "taking into account the global measures adopted recently by France and Belgium" has been replaced by a new sentence, at the end of the paragraph: "However, it is recalled that certain Member States have recently adopted global measures".

I am sending a copy of this letter and enclosure to Alex Allan (Treasury) and Roger Lavelle (Cabinet Office).

Jans,
Stephen Wall
