Dear David

TAXATION AND CHARITABLE DONATIONS

We spoke on the telephone about Andrew Turnbull's letter of 11 July to Rachal Lomax.

The Chancellor would of course be glad to discuss the tax treatment of charitable donations with the Prime Minister. As you will have seen, the Home Secretary wrote to him recently asking him to consider for the Budget various proposals in a detailed paper by Adam Ridley. The Chancellor would like to have time to consider these carefully before his discussion with the Prime Minister, and we shall then be in touch with you again.

Yours ever,

Tony
